

Growing Your Creative Enterprise

COURSE SUMMARY

We have now come to the end of this lesson. You have worked hard to understand some very key financial concepts, Congratulations!

Remember, as a creative entrepreneur, having a general understanding of the financial side of your business is important. There are also accountants who can help you do manage the finances but it's still important that you understand so that you can know what the accountant is doing.

You can always come back to these slides incase you need to refresh your memory. Take a break and see you in the next course on building and leading teams.

4 Finance for creative Business

